

Summer 2021 EJA Fellow:

Name: Tim Rosenberger

Law School: Stanford

Organization: Interfaith Legal Services of the Western Reserve

Update 1: Honored to join Sola Caritas Sola Caritas MCC and Equal Justice America in serving the working poor in Cleveland, Ohio. It's amazing to see my community bounce back from the pandemic, and I'm so grateful to learn from the talented public interest attorneys working here. This summer would not have been possible without support from Equal Justice America, and you can help more students have the opportunity to serve by donating.

Update 2: The start of another great week with the talented team Sola Caritas. I'm so grateful to be able to spend the summer doing such meaningful work and to have the opportunity to be part of Cleveland's renaissance. We are showing what's possible in the rust belt and the great things possible when communities come together. You can be a part of expanding out work and making it possible for more law students to engage in this kind of fulfilling and impactful work!

Update 3: Another great week with MCC Western Reserve. My team is enjoying this great Cleveland summer and all of the opportunities to address homelessness and housing insecurity. Looking forward to growing and learning with this team.

Entry 4: It is bittersweet to be entering the final quarter of my time with the folks at Interfaith Legal Services in Cleveland, Ohio. While it's exciting to be returning to SLS this autumn, I'll miss this amazing team and the great clients we got to help. So grateful to have been an EJA Fellow this summer and for the opportunity to do purposeful work that benefits my community. You can help even more students have this opportunity by contributing.
